

L E A D E R S H I P

Adam is an intuitive and skilled writer, a lifelong learner, and an intentional communicator. He's fun to work with, and time flies by when we're working on a project together.

The best word I can think of to describe working with Adam is "effortless." He makes it all seem so easy.

Adam listens for me and how I show up in written form for my clients, for my vendors, and for my future clients. Adam writes all of my content; short ads, e-books, published articles for periodicals, blogs, scripted content for training programs, marketing campaigns and all of my website content. His dependability and ability to leverage my time quickly moved him into my inner circle as a trusted advisor.

Regardless of what the topic is or the medium, Adam routinely exceeds expectations with minimal edits and maximum output. He's on time or early with deliverables. I'm amazed at his ability to be an independent thinker and a collaborative team player with the various behavioral styles on my team.

Sounds perfect? Darn near!

Very grateful for the day he came on board.
